

MyZuzah Moments - August 10, 2023

Yesterday we started our longitudinal survey of the MyZuzah Journey Emails, by sending a second survey to all 300 pilot recipients one month after their last email, and three months after they participated in a benchmark survey. Within two weeks, we should have a clear picture of how the project had an impact beyond the short-term. We'll report back soon!

Partner Updates:

Chaya Lasson, RN, who serves as the Director of Jewish Life and Palliative Care for a healthcare system in Baltimore, MD, placed one of our mezuzahs on the home of a patient near the end of their life. She shared "The hospice family was so appreciative of this mezuzah. They are so grateful. We are thankful for the opportunity to collaborate with you to do this special mitzvah."

Andre and Anna Cantelmo of South Hampton, NH, completed their conversions to Judaism at the mikvah of Mayyim Hayyim, where they received a mezuzah to mark the occasion and the doorpost of their home.

At the Ariel Center for Russian Speaking Jews in Maryland, Rabbi Velvel Belinsky shared mezuzot with Natali Kavalerchik and the Veltman family:

Individual Stories:

*We don't do a lot Jewishly in my household, but when taking my son to tot shabbat at our local shul the rabbi encouraged me to get a mezuzah. I wasn't planning on buying a kosher one until we found MyZuzah! We've been getting more involved locally, and I am now going on a Momentum trip in the fall. Blayklee Fried, Tulsa, OK

Ely Benhamo, Las Vegas, NV

Lavie,
Brooklyn, NY

I heard about MyZuzah from my daughter. The reason that I wanted one is because I am Jewish and my parents and grandparents always had Mezuzahs on the doorposts of their homes. Having a Mezuzah makes me feel so proud of who I am and most connected to my Jewish heritage!
