

MyZuzah Moments - February 27, 2025

Every day, the MyZuzah team receives a report from our database (called MyZuzah Connect) of all the requests we fielded the previous day from people interested in a mezuzah. This week we had a great example of the wide reach our program has – take a look at all the places we touched on Wednesday alone!

- Denver, CO
- Glendale, MO
- Jersey City, NJ
- Millcreek, Utah
- Mountain Home Air Force Base, ID
- Newham, Tasmania

Partner Updates:

Through our partnerships supporting the IDF, we provided more mezuzot for the expanded base near Kibbutz Alumim, located between Kibbutz Be'eri and Nahal Oz. Click here for a video showing our new outpost!

The team at Kulanu (which is focused on supporting isolated, emerging, and returning Jewish communities around the globe) highlighted our partnership in their recent newsletter:

MyZuzah Partnership Expands to Latin America and Beyond

Thanks to our incredible partnership with MyZuzah, Kulanu has been able to provide mezuzot to Jewish communities across multiple countries, strengthening Jewish identity and traditions in these regions. Distributions sent so far included Cameroon, Ghana, Italy, Uganda (pictured), Zimbabwe and more. There is now a package on its way to Latin America for the Anusim Communities.

Down in Queensland, Australia, our roving cantor/mohel/pilot partner Rabbi Yehuda Niasoff, of Sydney's Central Synagogue, flew to a town called Surfers Paradise (I kid you not!) to perform a bris for the son of an intermarried couple. Interestingly, the father was born to a Jewish father and Catholic mother, and he then married a Jewish woman, and at the bris he was so excited to receive a mezuzah for their home. Rabbi Niasoff shared that for all the times he has done a bris and offered the family a mezuzah,, he's never had anyone decline the opportunity – and the smiles that come when he pulls the mezuzah from his bris bag are amazing.

Individual Recipient Stories:

A woman made a generous donation to our program this week, and when asked what moved her to do so she shared:

I saw the MyZuzah project online and loved it! I'm a "Bubbe" and I support you in honor of my precious grandchildren. Thank you for the work that you're doing. I will always support my fellow Jews.

*Am Yisrael Chai,
Lois Neft, Horsham, PA*

My old mezuzah lost its prayer and this was a gift from GD. My gf and I are moving in together so it's nice to have a fresh mezuzah up. Brett Greenberg, Los Angeles, CA
