

MyZuzah Moments - January 19, 2023

In December, our mezuzah parcels traveled 49,020 miles– almost a quarter of the distance from Earth to the Moon! If anyone can connect us with the team at SpaceX, we'd love to help place one up there, too :-)

As we prepare to launch a new store page on our website, where people will be able to pay to upgrade their cases or buy mezuzahs as gifts, we are busy collecting new styles each week. A donation of cases from the Apeloig Collection just arrived– we are big fans of their design!

Partner Updates:

Our good friend, Rabbi Boruch Greenberg at Chabad Muhlenberg, in Allentown, PA, shared mezuzahs with students and community members in his area.

Out west, Chabad of Southwest Portland, in Oregon, helped Levi Stahl with a mezuzah:

Individual Stories:

The mezuzah causes a reflection about what to perpetuate and what should be different. I want a more progressive but spiritual space. I think Judaism has room for the power and balance of both. Where the journey will lead? Idk. Now when I walk through the door I cogitate few seconds about it. Josh Morali, San Juan, Puerto Rico

Following her very moving virtual dedication, Maira Miranda of Mesa, AZ made a donation to our program, and had this to say about the experience: In my conversion course another student mentioned the website. I love being part of the Jewish community and being in the process of learning. Having my mezuzah up gives me protection as Jewish home

Madi Strahaman of Cleveland, OH, had her rabbi help her put the mezuzah up on her apartment door

Anna Cohen, of Middlefield, CT, and her mother put up their mezuzah:
